DESCRIPTION

This 3-bedroom home with terrace in Playa del Carmen offers a distinctive three-level layout across 165.56 m² of construction. Instead of concentrating all bedrooms on a single floor, the design separates the social spaces, secondary bedrooms and primary suite into three clearly defined areas.

The ground floor is dedicated to everyday living, with a living room, dining area and kitchen, along with a guest half bathroom and parking for two vehicles.

The middle floor creates a separate family zone. Two bedrooms with closet space share a full bathroom, while a dedicated TV lounge provides an additional social environment away from the main living room. A service room is also located on this level.

The top floor is reserved for the primary suite, giving owners greater privacy from the rest...
